School Days

*No happier days in one's life will he know
Than his school days so dear and so free;
No matter how far from his home may he go,
His school days are happier, he'll see.*

*He may find many riches, and wealth, and great fame,
Or a loved one to him very dear;
He may circle the globe and return to the same
Old home town where his friends are so near.*

*A happiness he'll find, but it will not compare
With the fun and the frolic and glee
That in school he enjoys, when he has not a care
But a few studies; then he is free!*

*Many times will he wish when from school he departs
He were back in that lively old place
Where he toiled so and struggled with lessons
and charts,
But he does love it not in these days.*

*And when it is over and gone fore'er more,
He will look back and then will he find
That his happiest days have gone on before
In the schoolhouse that he left behind.*

Andrew Lewis Library

THE Andrew Lewis Library is an attractive room, carefully arranged in furnishings, bright with sunlight, and warm with the friendship of persons and books. Growing plants and flowers, seasonal posters, and book displays add to the beauty of the room. Between the entrance doors, neatly placed on the shelves, are the books pertaining to studies and general and specific reference works. Beneath the great windows, back of the charging desk, are the books of biography and fiction, which the students enjoy reading.

One particularly notices the splendid behavior of the persons who study and read in the library. This, of course, makes any library attractive. A spirit of quiet, courtesy, and coöperation generally prevails. The students are trusted to uphold the library standards, and they show that they appreciate the trust. Truly, the Andrew Lewis Library is most appealing and worthy of pride.

—DOROTHY SMITH

Foreword

DURING this school year of 1936-37, some eleven hundred students have gone in and out of Andrew Lewis High School daily. As you have followed your various courses in science, music, shorthand, language, etc., as you have participated in the activities of your choice, we believe that, to each of you, life here has been a happy experience, a glorious adventure. Indeed, how could it be otherwise? The very atmosphere of the place seems to be filled with joy, the joy which comes from wholesome, right living. There is a pervading influence which we sometimes refer to as the "spirit of Andrew Lewis," which all who enter seem to imbibe. The beautiful building, situated in historic Salem in the lovely valley of the Roanoke, is surrounded by towering mountain peaks in the distance. An administration considers carefully the present-day needs of young people. Faithful teachers, friendships and high moral standards—these and many other things contribute to this happy condition.

It has been the aim of your Staff, in producing this 1937 PIONEER, to perpetuate in the mind of each of you an everlasting memory of your school life. We feel that a theme more fascinating to you could not be found, though we searched the annals of history. It is our hope that as you pause again and again, somewhere along the Road of Life, to turn these pages, that you may return to whatever task may be yours, inspired by having relived the happy days at Andrew Lewis.

Dedication

NOT because he is one of the outstanding members of our faculty; not because he has always taken a keen interest in the activities of our school; not because he has taught us to "know what we know"; not because he exemplifies those things that are finest in character—although all these traits have endeared him to us—but because he has proved himself to be one of the students' best friends, we, the Class of 1937, proudly dedicate this volume of THE PIONEER to

Mr. J. H. Snapp

A Message From Our Principal

THE preparation of the Annual has required considerable time and expense as well as painstaking effort. Believing that this expenditure is justified because the Annual incorporates material to perpetuate worthy memories of high school days, because its publication is productive of an esprit de corps in the student body, and because its preparation has given valuable training to the students responsible for its composition, I heartily congratulate the Staff and Faculty Advisers upon their accomplishment of the PIONEER of 1936-37. If in years to come this little book shall call back happy days, pleasant memories, and fine friendships, it will have served its purpose and the Staff will not have labored in vain.

Mr. Roland E. Cook

THE PIONEER STAFF wishes to dedicate this page as an expression of appreciation to Mr. Roland E. Cook, Superintendent of Roanoke County Schools. Andrew Lewis High School is proud of the distinction which he has attained in educational affairs. He was elected president of The Virginia Education Association for a term of two years at the Annual Convention in Richmond in November. Commenting on his election, The Virginia Journal of Education designates him as "one of the outstanding superintendents of the State." We are glad that Mr. Cook's capacity for fine leadership is recognized abroad as well as at home. He has also served as vice president of District M for two terms.

Having received his early education as well as having taught in the schools of the county, Mr. Cook has ever had the interests of the boys and girls of Salem and Roanoke County close to his heart, during the thirty years of his superintendency. A man, extremely modest as to his own merits, exceedingly human, yet resolute and vigorous when the occasion demands, he is greatly admired by those who know him. Both student and teacher feel free to approach him with their problems because they find in him sympathetic understanding. Mr. Cook is indeed worthy of admiration.

Seniors

ANOTHER June, and Seniors, the 1937 Class, going forth from Andrew Lewis. Like the pieces of a puzzle we have not yet found the places which we are to fill in Life. We are not quite smoothed to the beauty of form for portraying the future of our country in time and deeds.

This, for us, is a step forward into a world full of complex situations that require infinite knowledge, enlightenment, and wisdom. Our school life has given us, to some extent, all these. Experience will supply the finishing touches. Those who watch expect us to follow the gleam. Other classes which have gone before challenge us. For us—they need have no fear.

The time will come when we shall grasp the torch of progress flung into our hands. May we hold it high and may we accomplish!

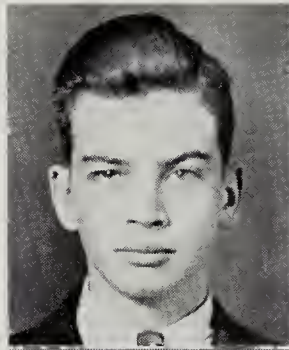

—MARGARET TRENT

Class Will

WE, the Senior Class of nineteen hundred and thirty-seven, realizing that our days at Andrew Lewis High School are numbered, and now possessing a very great deal of intelligence, rare personality, and talents in many lines, do hereby bestow our numerous valuable qualities, as well as our idiosyncrasies, upon our worthy and devoted lower classmen in this, our Last Will and Testament.

ITEM—To the faculty, we leave sincere appreciation for their willingness to help us at all times.

ITEM—To Mr. Broadwater, we bequeath any money left in the treasury, hoping that it will erase from his brow all trace of financial worry.

ITEM—The tracks on the floor after a rainy day we leave to Mr. Voci.

ITEM—To the Junior Class, we proudly leave our reputation for silence, study, and school spirit, with the hope that they may add to these qualities.

ITEM—To the Freshman Class, we offer this advice—Take Latin for it will be needed in Mr. Snapp's Senior English.

ITEM—The graduating members of the Music Department thoughtfully leave Mrs. Turner means whereby her walls may be made soundproof to protect both herself and her students from certain sounds which are emitted from the Music Room when beginners are "blowing the horns."

ITEM—Shirley Hoover leaves her knitting to Mr. Snapp who will give it to anyone who can use it and still make as good grades as she.

ITEM—Jon Longaker leaves the pleasure of being Class President to anyone who can take a lot of comment.

ITEM—Albert Snapp leaves his Latin papers to anyone who can use them and still pass the course.

ITEM—Colleen Sanford leaves her keen eye for the basket to Betty Stuart.

ITEM—After much deliberation, Mary Elizabeth Welsh has agreed to bestow her oratorical ability upon Betty Turner.

ITEM—Marvin White generously leaves his Chemistry Experiments to anyone who can find them.

ITEM—Lucille Hood leaves her lovely contralto voice with Mrs. Peery and her passion for brass buttons to Jane Halder.

ITEM—Alma Darden, Elizabeth Middleton, and Aminee Jones leave their reputations to any who can take a lot of gossip.

ITEM—Penn Kime, in brotherly affection, wills his dignity to Vic Sisson.

ITEM—Alice Spessard leaves her giggles to anyone who has the nerve to use them.

ITEM—Kenneth Whitescarver bequeaths his standing with the ladies to Mr. Oglesby.

ITEM—George Peery leaves his nickname to anyone who desires it.

ITEM—Markham Lewis wills his trumpet to anyone who dares play it in Mr. Snapp's presence.

ITEM—Mary Frances Price kindly leaves her mathematical ability to Irene Bradley.

ITEM—Virginia Holdren and Margaret Trent, after careful consideration, agree to confer their good looks upon Miriam Oakey and Dorothy Jane Hodges.

ITEM—Peyton Richmond leaves her literary ability to Jacqueline Sharpe to be used in Mrs. Pedigo's programs.

ITEM—Nellie Myers cheerfully leaves her good grades to James Kincaid.

ITEM—Nancy Pierpont and Betsy Wiley reluctantly relinquish their social positions to Mary Patton and Helen Chewning.

ITEM—Francis West leaves to next year's Civic Classes his ability to keep Mr. Oglesby from giving a test.

ITEM—Preston Graves wills his talent for financing the PIONEER, along with his willingness to make all the speeches required by Mrs. Turner in the Subscription Campaign, to Gibson Maxwell.

ITEM—John West leaves his composer's ability to John Kinzie.

ITEM—Lillie Ann McGrady gives her Irish eyes to the one who can use them to the best advantage.

ITEM—James Powers confers upon J. Willard Brubaker his rhythmical dance step.

ITEM—Sibyl Stump leaves her poetic talent to Jack Macom and her place at the piano to Wanda Black.

ITEM—Polly Fagg relinquishes her Friday morning task of selling remaining copies of the Times Register to Frances Stoutamire.

ITEM—John Bernard bestows his "role of Romeo" upon Martin Wilbourne.

ITEM—Carroll Wood leaves his fondness for Zoological specimens to his brother, Henry.

ITEM—Buddy Johnson leaves his athletic fame to Paul McGhee.

ITEM—Marvin White, Jon Longaker, and Kenneth Whitescarver leave their never-dying devotion for Mary Patton to Bob Bradshaw and Claude Stuart.

ITEM—James Hall leaves his advanced ideas on farming to Forrest Wimmer, who will some day put them into practice.

ITEM—Margaret Trent leaves her calm manner to Mary Jane Bliss in order that Andrew Lewis may enjoy a few peaceful moments next year.

ITEM—Sibyl Stump leaves several feet of her stature to Dickie Walthall.

ITEM—Vivian Sanford, the lady with the elastic jaw, leaves her capacity for chewing a whole pack of gum at once with the greatest of ease, to Walton Bowles.

ITEM—Caroline Maxwell leaves her ability as guard to Jean.

ITEM—Jon Longaker beneficently leaves his bass voice to Bobby Powell.

ITEM—In order that the old Alma Mater will still be able to produce plays, Breithaupt leaves his willingness to help back-stage to Billy Yonce.

ITEM—Markham Lewis regretfully bequeaths his neat, orderly habits to Victor Sisson.

ITEM—Carroll Wood leaves his Hamlet papers and the hours spent on them to Martin Wilbourne.

ITEM—Aminee Jones, after much consideration and with regret, leaves the “Moon” to her kid sister, so that it will all stay in the family.

ITEM—Alma Darden wills her captivating ways to Jean Maxwell with the motto, “Carry on!”

ITEM—Fred Cornell leaves his ability to fall asleep any time, any where, to Roy Whitescarver, but hopes he won’t use it too often.

ITEM—“Weenie” Barnett leaves his interest in athletics to Bob Bradshaw.

ITEM—Margaret Trent gives up her “fan males” to Alda Ruth Johnson.

ITEM—Polly Fagg passes on her clever way of “Snooping in” and somehow discovering all the Secrets for A. L. News to Jane Halder.

ITEM—George Peery leaves his every-ready desire to argue to Mac Whitmore.

ITEM—Caroline Maxwell leaves her “feminine ways” to Jean Ann Wilfong, advising that she use them wisely.

ITEM—Phyllis Wright leaves her cunning ways to “Wimpy” Lofland.

ITEM—Preston Graves leaves his “taking” ways with the girls to Casey Jones.

ITEM—Elizabeth Middleton leaves her alarm clock to Jane Halder, hoping that Big Ben will do a better job for his new mistress.

ITEM—Betty Fleck says, “Trip it lightly, as you go” and leaves her love of dancing to Helen Chewning.

ITEM—Rose Lee Wetzel leaves her booklet “On the Proper Diet” to Mildred Carper.

ITEM—Irene Grissom leaves her “fetching” ways to Ione Sisson.

ITEM—Betsy Wiley decides to leave her “knack” for “blues” singing to Alice McGhee so that none of the “hit numbers” will be neglected.

ITEM—Hazel Grubb leaves her charm and dependability to Geraldine Keith.

ITEM—Keister Boone leaves his slow, stately tread through the halls to Dan Hurdle.

ITEM—Dorothy Bruce leaves her gentle manners to Dorothy Kimmerling.

ITEM—Jean Cheatham leaves her quiet, attractive manner to Edna Mae Miles.

ITEM—Eugene Swann bestows his tranquil manner to Jack Marmaduke, hoping he will take advantage of it.

ITEM—David Barger leaves his habit of being late to Jack Macom, but hopes he won’t use it too constantly.

ITEM—Jo Hudgins leaves her Andrew Lewis “pep” and vigor to Emma Lyle West.

ITEM—Thelma Poff decides to will her fondness for the library to Jean McClung.

ITEM—Bernice Marie Jones leaves her ability to pronounce the big words to June Hoover.

ITEM—“Weenie” Barnett leaves his false teeth to James Kincaid for use during his old age at A. L. H. S.

ITEM—Petie Apostolou gives up his habit of “dodging” to Francis Musgrove. But watch the results!

ITEM—A. O. Rusher leaves his success in proving that men are not measured by their size to Dickie Walthall.

ITEM—Walter Bain disposes of his graceful manner of walking through the halls by willing it to Mac Hough.

ITEM—Alma Darden relinquishes the position of Editor of the PIONEER which she has so acceptably filled to a worthy successor yet to be named.

Witness our hand and seal this second day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven.

SIBYL STUMP

Siren of the Fates

Class Prophecy

*The oracle, sage, and bard of this page
Will show you the future events.
These couplets express the marvelous success
Of Lewis High ladies and gents.*

People find it hard to die,
With Mildred Showalter, a nurse, nearby.
Yale has the best coach it's ever known—
The well-known sportsman—Jack Stone.
Jon Longaker, a Metropolitan bass,
Made Lawrence Tibbett hide his face.
Peyton Richmond, famous novelist and poet,
Has completed her book, "The World As I Know It."
A lady who has distinguished her name
Is Alma Darden, a doctor of fame.
Hospitals seem to have lost their curses
Since Robertson, Reynolds, and Wertz are nurses.
A teacher of primary kids—oh my!
The best of her type, Miss Mary Voci.
Snapp has gone to the Isle of Manhattan;
Believe it or not, he's teaching Latin.
Lazy pupils meet their doom,
When Almeda Waters comes into the room.
People go to theatres all hours of the night
To see the actress, Miss Phyllis Wright.
Designers of dresses in colors that shimmer
Are the famous Louise and Margaret Wimmer.
Say, my friends, did you see the prize fight
Between Johnny Helms and Ernest Wright?
Senator Whitescarver's favorite guest
Is the famous comedian, Francis West.
The stage's greatest productions this year
Were Welch and Lofland in plays by Shakespeare.
Chevrolet now presents Rubinoff's twin,
"Jack Summers, and his violin."
People applaud as to Queen and King
When Betsy Wilcy rises to sing.
Walter Bain, long since to New York did go,
Happily married to—well, you know.
Nancy Pierpont made all Broadway feel small
With Johnny Bernard in "My Life, My All."
"You can be a star and not have to sing—"
Thus saith Hollywood's queen, Edna King.
To be beautiful is easy today
With Lillie Ann McGrady not far away.
The greatest aviator we've ever known,
Jack Peters—'round the world he's flown.
Just study the methods of Cleo Hale
If you want recipes that cannot fail.
If you want to hear an alto who's really good,
Turn on the radio and hear Lucille Hood.
As a typist, she's the best of all,
She keeps her reputation—Hazel Hall.
Most magicians merely take rabbits from a hat;
George Bower does greater things than that.
An army officer, with coat of mail,
We proudly salute Roy Hale.
Policeman White, get on your duty!
Here's Margaret Trent, the American Beauty.
V. Sanford, long since, to New York did go,
Happily married to—well, you know.
Of all efficient secretaries
Margaret Richardson is quite the berries!
Go to Detroit, if you want a good dealer,
And buy a Chrysler from Winton Shelor.
Rose Lee Wetzel, as little as ever,
Is noted for work in Christian Endeavor.
What a great asset to the New York Sun
Is its competent editor, Eugene Swann!

*This'll show you the teachers, the painters, and preachers
Inventors and actors renowned,
Congressmen, cooks, lawyers, and crooks,
And other professions profound.*

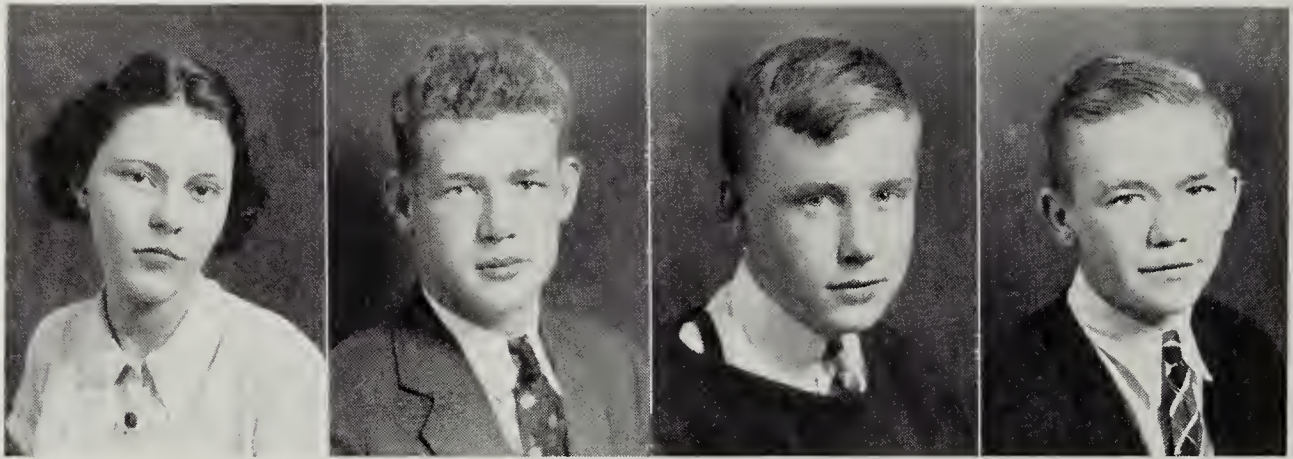

By Sabra Thomas good work is done
In a well-known New York beauty salon.
As basket-ball coach at Randolph-Macon
Colleen Sanford a position has taken.
From start to finish, from finish to start,
The best guitar teacher in Virginia is Helen Gearheart.
She claims to be a spinster, but bachelors couldn't bear it
If they could not go to see Wilda Garrett.
Paul Kilgore has a formula for age prevention,
Due to his unusual interest in invention.
Here's to C. Maxwell, woman Senator of fame,
Whose unusual speeches have made her a name.
The mind of the designer of hats, Margaret Going,
With new ideas is simply overflowing.
Doris Earnhardt, who in piano was dominant,
In a jazz orchestra is now very prominent.
Misses Spessard and Kime, a comedy team,
Are enough to make any audience scream.
Who is the lady with so much ambition?
Why Margaret Walrond, the famous technician.
She goes about helping people in need.
Who? The Red Cross Nurse, Miss Alice Reed.
An excellent teacher—one of the best—
Frieda Walthall fills pupils with zest.
A boy who once in a theater was usher
Is now the manager—A. O. Rusher.
The wildest pupils are somewhat meek
When the chemist, Paul Reich, rises to speak.
Pythagoras would bury his face in shame
Should he hear of M. F. Price's fame.
He dances on stages for hours and hours
In bright lights is written "Today: James Powers."
There's a radio program that all of us know
By name, "Harold Prichard and his ole banjo."
She goes through the air, an air-hostess fine,
Miss Lillian Helton of Eastern Airline.
She's made herself famous in works of art,
Miss Shirley Hoover, a genius thou art!
Dawson's name we see on every page,
An expert of gasoline age.
Ada Gardner, a singer, has yet to be married;
She was too particular; too long she tarried.
Jean Cheatham after much hard work
Has done quite well at her job as clerk.
Alma Cox, a chemist of note,
Just published a book of theory she wrote.
Drink to the surgeon, Fred Cornell,
Patients respect him, but O! how they yell!
Here's to Ruth Flora, a well-known name!
At interior decoration she's won great fame.
Thomas Adams has opened a new hotel,
And we hear he's doing remarkably well.
The life of a party will never lag
If it's given by the hostess, Fleck or Fagg.
Of orphanage matrons, as everyone says,
The best of all are Holdren and Bays.
Virginia Beach, of three-husband fame,
Once again is changing her name.
A toast to B. Johnson, who just confessed
He made his fortune in Europe's sports contests.
Robert Barnett, noted airplane designer,
Has completed his plans for a "crack" airliner.
Next is a man of the very greatest fame,
Barnett, Coach of Notre Dame.

She teaches the children to be precise—
A. L.'s Home Ec. teacher, Irene Price.
Of kindergarten teachers, we all agree
The very best is Miss Dorothy Lee.
There are all kinds of stores in every town,
But Keister Boone's have the greatest renown.
When teams want justice they just cry, "Save us!"
To the competent sports critic, Edith Davis.
She's a girl who never says, "I can't"—
The able tennis champion, Bculah Grant.
For Andrew Lewis much money he saves—
The newly elected principal, Preston Graves.
Here's to the curer of ill, James Hall,
Who, as bacteriologist, has surpassed us all.
Thelma Poff, who was a great help to us,
Is now librarian at Andrew Lewis.
Dumb Greek students meet their Waterloo,
Under the native Greek teacher, Peter Apostolou.
We salute the mission worker, Helen Brillhart,
Who did not hesitate her work to start.
You all know the lady who's the talk of the town;
The distinguished society lady, Evelyn Brown.
She's known as a typist, near and far,
The former Lewis grad, Marguerite Carr.
Everyone's reading the latest book
Of the newly-discovered writer, Mary Sue Cook.
Just as she did at Andrew Lewis High
Eva Mae Johnson in beauty contests ranks high.
In housekeeping, there are very few
Who can surpass Elizabeth Perdue.
Candler, a real estate man of repute,
Possesses honesty that no one can refute.
Leslie Keith, Police Chief of New York,
Has discovered a way to make criminals talk.
A salesman no longer seems a bore,
When Glenn Fitze comes up to your door.
Says Hugh Gresham, who has taken to the air,
"There are no policemen or speed limits there."
Virginia Poff is the very best
In the professional sportswoman's test.
Here's to Elizabeth, of the Middleton clan,
Who plays a clarinet in a famous band.
A producer of songs with marvelous tones
Is the competent person, Bernice M. Jones.
Social queen, Aminee Jones, will be around soon—
I wonder if she's still with Mr. "Moon."
There's one whose score will never fall;
Gordon Craig in golf has surpassed them all.
Carole McCallum is the best
When it comes to the radio test.
Remembering the thrill a uniform carried,
Mavis Parker is now to an officer married.
Day and night Hazel Arthur slaves
In a beauty parlor, giving permanent waves.
At any social gathering, Mary Bowling
Starts the ball of good times rolling.
Music students work like the deuce;
They like the teachers, Misses Branch and Bruce.
She's a competent seamstress (so we have heard)
Everyone patronizes Miss Ethel Byrd.
In her pastime, the teacher, Nellie Myers,
Collects for classes, pictures of monks and friars.
Jack Blackard halted in his bright new taxi;
He was hailed by the dancer, Alice Maxey.
We just heard that Gwendolyn Garner
Is married to a royal foreigner.
Buddy Breithaupt is all in a rage
Because of success in designing a stage.
Higginbotham and Hurt are fit as fiddles
As "house-mothers" at the leading hospitals.
Emily Carter has a distinguished place
As English teacher—and is she an ace?

Evelyn Farrell, after a college course,
Is very successful as a nurse.
Nancy Ruth Poage went to teachers' college;
About teaching school she acquired much knowledge.
Josephine Hudgins in her try for fame,
Added the term, "Lawyer," to her name.
Katherine Phillips for a word was never at a loss;
Now she's married and is still her own boss.
Ruby Miller has recently become a star;
Her pictures are sought both near and far.
Edith Meadows is a famous dietician,
Owing largely to her "vaulting ambition."
Irene Grissom took Home Economics with the future
in view;
As we all know, her dreams have come true.
Hazel Grubb watches over them, for better or worse,
And is head of her profession as nurse.
"Benny Goodman" doesn't mean a thing,
When Barger, Peery, and Lewis swing.
Carroll Wood is fathoms below,
Looking for goldfish in H<sup>2</sup>O.
Genevieve Gardner's writing rhymes
For both London and New York Times.
Virginia Loope writes book reviews
For the well-known paper, The Chicago News.
Architect speaks with a tongue of fire—
Namely, J. C. W. West, Esquire.
Rachael Parker's at the preview, for certain;
She's right there when the pull the curtain!
Arlen Christley, as a chemist, has gained great fame;
His discoveries are quite a credit to his name.
Down the road the sportswoman roared—
Margaret Parker in her brand new Ford.
She works and works without complain—
The Y. M. C. A. hostess, Helena Drain.
She dates every night without failing;
Does the grammar-school principal, Laura Fralin.
Ida Cecil taught school awhile
Something greater now—she lives in style.
B. Christley and Duncan just made this confession—
For them the job as clerks is a favorite profession.
Paderewski now has been outdone;
Sibyl Stump is Number One.
Louise Carroll to Detroit did go.
To work in the booth of a leading show.
Martha Henry at fancy work is good;
She's always done the best she could.
A. L. sees Hazel Brubaker's smiling face;
She's taken Mrs. Bradley's place.
Helen Broughman is not a mathematician,
But she does her stuff as an excellent beautician.
Margaret Brogan as a student was always bright;
As a math teacher, she leaves all out of sight.
Frances Grubbs—well, I just don't know—
Some folks do puzzle one so!
And now to end this foolish chatter,
C. Brice's tennis records made others' not matter.

*By the time you read this column,
Our necks will have been broken,
Because we have been so bold as to say
These things which have been spoken.
And so, however great or small
Is the future you have in view,
"Give to the world the best that you have,
And the best will come back to you."
I wish I were a real prophet,
That I your future might really foresee.
I'd give you all the best career there is,
A home—happiness to the highest degree.*

Junior Sentiments

IN OUR new surroundings, three years ago, as Freshmen, we felt very insignificant, but the congeniality of the teachers and pupils soon made us feel that we were really a part of the school. The road ahead looked long and hard, but through persistence on our part and untiring effort on the part of our teachers the year's work was finished. Each year the work is more advanced and our success is measured by the zeal which we put into the task.

We are fortunate to live in a period in which it is recognized that high grades are not the only indication of one's education. It is very pleasant to be able to put up a perfect examination paper and receive a high mark, but a question of vastly more importance is—Do we have the proper appreciation of the subject? As someone has said, "The best reward is the sense of worthy achievement."

There is another important side to our school life, in addition to that of scholastic standing. We will be remembered by our schoolmates and teachers as they know us in school. If they know us to be rude, thoughtless, discourteous, or dishonest, impressions like these are not soon forgotten. If we are kind, thoughtful, courteous, and honorable, just so we shall be remembered. People may forgive us for these things, but they cannot forget them.

So let us, as Seniors, apply ourselves more earnestly to our work; let us, in the words of Tennyson, "strive, seek, find, not yield"; but let us also keep in our hearts the prayer, "So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." If we endeavor to cultivate attributes like these, surely our Alma Mater will be proud of us when we go out as Seniors of '38, for such ideals belong to the traditions which have been handed down from the early days of Salem High School. It is these which distinguish our beloved Andrew Lewis High School today.

Sophisms

In my faney, where was I? . . . Oh yes, I remember . . . Again a Freshman at Broad St. . . . "Woe is me . . . Them days is gone forever!" . . . Then Andrew Lewis. . . Confusion in the halls . . . Giggles . . . First period Latin, subjunctive mood, ugh! . . . Then "Doe" Farley tellin' 'bout grasshoppers and grubs . . . Third period . . . Dear Mrs. Turner's calm, sweet voice . . . (the choral elub is singing "Just the Way You Look Tonight" in the Music Room, across the hall) . . . "Helen, which do you think loved Annie more, Enoch or Philip?" . . . "Enoch or Philip!! . . . Ma'am? . . . Exeuse me, I er" . . . (Oh, what was I thinkin' about? She means in the poem, of course. I had forgotten we were studying "Enoch Arden.") . . . Oh, the bell! . . . Soup's on! . . . Now to rush thru eats so we can walk the halls an' get a worm's-eye view of "Love in Bloom" . . . Johnny, "Eggs," "Weenie," McGhee, Kolmer, Keith, etc. . . . and that reminds me of last night . . . umnnnr . . . He's so nice!! . . . The bell! . . . Time for gym with turned ankles and cracked skulls . . . An' regardless of easualties the ever-familiar order from Mr. Dave's little girl, Staples, "Fall into your squads!" . . . More fun! . . . Fifth period . . . Assembly . . . Mr. Broadwater, adding to my inferiority complex . . . Lectures on morals, manners, and mischiefs . . . "The darkest hour is just before dawn." . . . Last period! . . . and . . . (oops, there's a fly on my desk . . . Got him!) . . . Oh dear, I wonder what show's on at the Ameriean . . . Ah well, snows of winter, like the Seniors of '37 will soon be "Gone With the Wind." . . . Well, well, let's hope that we "sophs" who came in like lambs will go out like lions, with medals instead of eolds on our chests! . . . Say, Earl, what time is it? Would ya' mind wakin' me up when the bell rings?

IN June, 1936, we were rewarded for our long and tedious work in the grades by promotion to the Andrew Lewis High School. We put away our childish ways. Some of the girls put on silk stockings and the boys began to slick their hair back and make eyes at the girls. When the school door was opened for us, at last, that bright September morning, our joys were unbounded. We hadn't been in school long, when we realized to our astonishment that we, the freshmen, were only little ducks in a big pond.

Although we were timid and undecided how to act at first, we fell beautifully into the real school spirit. At the football games, the freshmen's immature voices could be heard above all the others. When we yell we yell.

After the statement was made in the Andrew Lewis News that the freshmen behaved much better in assembly than the upper classmen, our noses certainly became more visible to the ceiling.

To Mrs. James we owe many thanks for her work in planning entertainments for us in assembly.

During the past year a Literary Club, a Freshman Hi-Y, and a Latin Club for the Freshmen have been organized.

We have had much fun and we certainly hope that our Sophomore, Junior and Senior years will be as successful and happy as this Freshman year.

Editing The Pioneer

A LARGER number of students have participated in the editing of THE PIONEER this year than ever before. Although this innovation has required more diligent leadership, the advisers feel that it has not only helped to make our annual more thoroughly representative of the entire school but has also made the publishing of THE PIONEER a more worthwhile school activity in that valuable training and experience has been proffered to more individuals in the four classes.

In an attempt to keep our Memory Book from becoming stereotyped, some change has been made in lay-out and typography. Several new features were also initiated in order to furnish more interesting material for both students and faculty.

Ten representatives of the annual attended the Southern Inter-scholastic Press Convention in Lexington, November 20th and 21st. This was one of the most enjoyable activities of the year. Many new ideas were brought back from Mr. Lubersky's conferences.

Andrew Lewis High School News

IN the spring of 1933 the Andrew Lewis High School News had its beginning with Dorothy Garst (now Mrs. Max Murray) as editor. Successive editors-in-chief since then have been Elmore Hood and Walter Gottschalk, joint editors for 1933-34; Opal Craun, editor for 1934-35; John Thornton, editor for 1935-36; and Albert Snapp, the present editor.

Previous to the year 1933, Salem High School had published from time to time a newspaper known as The Oracle. Since 1933, the year Andrew Lewis was opened to students, through the courtesy of Mr. J. H. Thornton, publisher of the Salem Times-Register, the High School News has had a page in the Salem paper. During the present year the publication of the newspaper has been carried on as an extra curricular project in school journalism.

A Resume of Dramatics

"ANOTHER SPRING" promises to be a fitting climax to the successful school life of the Class of 1937. The romantic drama, written by Priscilla Wayne and Wayne Sprague, carries throughout its pages a beautiful theme—a charming story which begins with a prologue in the Revolutionary period, runs excitingly through three acts in the present time, and—with the final curtain—leaves the audience a delightful outlook on the future and something to remember in the past. Although the roles are more difficult than any yet attempted, they will be well interpreted, and well portrayed by a talented group.

This year marks the fifth anniversary in the history of the senior play at Andrew Lewis—opening with "The Importance of Being Earnest" in the spring of 1932, followed by "A Prince There Was," "Wedding Bells," and "Officer 666." The casts of each of these played to capacity crowds, their work being highly acclaimed.

In December of 1935 the custom of presenting a play at Christmas time was inaugurated with the production of Charles Dickens' "Christmas Carol." In 1936 a beautiful interpretation of "Christopher's Candle" was given by Billy Robertson, Preston Graves, Helen Chewning, Lucille Hood, Aminee Jones, Rebecca Yeatts, Hugh Gresham and Jane Halder. On each occasion the students responded well to a silver offering as a Christmas gift to the school.

The dramatic work is under the direction of Emily Lorraine Raynor.

Andrew Lewis High School Band

The Andrew Lewis High School Band, under the direction of L. Christensen, was organized late in 1936. The band is steadily growing in size and the progress is most encouraging. They are now beginning to take an active part in the school activities and, as time goes on, they will play an important part both in school and community affairs.

PIGSKIN MEMOIRS

Twenty-five boys answering Coach Denton's call, on the first of September—Gus "a-dishing out laps"—Hitting an elusive tackling dummy—Day before first game. All nervous and possessing hollow stomachs (and all trying to hide it)—Whitlock and Stone hitting the line to score and to open the season with a victory over Radford—"Coon" Lambert and his "Come on life" instilling fire in practice—Playing Graham on the Bluefield College stadium—Twelve first downs to their four—Buddy Johnson chasing a pass intercepting Graham back eighty yards to insure a scoreless tie—Prancing out on Maher Field to hear a blood-tingling cheer from the Lewis rooters—Umpire Sampson messing up a treacherous trick play (the "bucket") to give Jefferson the ball on our two-yard line—A Lewis line, led by Cornell and McGhee, making heroic goal line stands—Stone punting out of danger—A Magician-completed pass giving them the ball on our three-yard line—A stonewall defense cracking on the last down to let them score by a still disputed inch—

Presenting the Team

JACK STONE—Quarter Back

"Waddle" played four years of varsity football, during which he was honored by a captainship in 1935 and a second team all-state berth in 1936. Jack is famous in the state for his smashing defensive work.

Co-CAPTAIN JAMES JOHNSON—Tackle

Co-Captain Johnson captioned his three years of sterling varsity football with his fine performance in the Danville game.

Co-CAPTAIN CHARLIE ANDREWS—Half Back

Co-Captain "Burks" was the rubber-legged and flashy broken-field runner of the 1936 Wolverines. Time after time he emerged from a line play to show his heels to would-be tacklers. His shoes will be hard to fill next season.

DAN HURDLE—Center

Although he weighed only 135 pounds, Dan capably held down the pivot position. Much is expected from this boy next year.

LESLIE KEITH—End

Playing at either end or tackle, "Les" brought joy to the coaches and fans alike with his fine brand of offensive and defensive ball.

PRESTON GRAVES—Guard

"Bucket," who was the youngest player on the Wolverine eleven, proved to be a power in the front line of attack with his ferocious tackling and blocking.

ELMER SHAVER—Tackle

Untrue to his nickname, "Sleepy" proved to be the spirit of the team. By nagging words and self-example he instilled the fire that staved off defeat and brought victory.

WARREN SOWDER—Half Back

Because he received much valuable experience this year as a reserve back, Warren is expected to be a key man in the 1937 backfield.

CAPTAIN-ELECTED PAUL MCGHEE—End

In recognition of his ability as a leader and as a player, "Mack" was elected Captain of the 1937 Wolverines. He is an all-around athlete, but an exceptional football player, and is expected to be an excellent field marshall.

BRUCE WHITLOCK—Half Back

"Hook" was an excellent blocking back and a tough customer for the opposing teams. He will be back next year to play the same brand of hard but clean football.

FRANCIS WEST—End

"Sheep," playing at a terminal position, materially increased the Wolverine chance of victory by snagging many of Stone's bullet passes and because he was equally adept at breaking up the opponent's plays, he will be sorely missed next year.

FRED CORMELL—Guard

Fred, who alternated with Lec as a guard, proved to be a stonewall on defense. He played good, steady ball in every game and he was the line star of the Jefferson game.

ELDRIDGE LEE—Guard

The running guard position was held down by one of the fastest and most accurate blockers ever to play for Salem High. Eldridge is one of the reasons why Coach Denton breaks into a smile when approached about the "thirty-seven eleven."

Resume of Girls' Basket Ball

THE Girls' Varsity Basket Ball team completed its fourth successful session with the record of one defeat and one tie out of fourteen games. They were the county champions for their fourth year. There were three members of the team who were placed on the All-County team, two receiving positions on the first team, and one on the second.

The team scored 309 points to 259 for their opponents. High scorers for the season were Colleen Sanford, with the total of 149 points, and Beulah Grant runner-up, with a total of 117 points.

Andrew Lewis will lose one of her best teams this year, for all six of the players graduate.

We, of Andrew Lewis, wish success to each member of the team for her excellent sportsmanship and teamwork.

Varsity

BEULAH GRANT

Forward—117. All-County team, '35-'36. Beulah has shown real sportsmanship during her three years on the Lewis court, and her loss will be greatly noticed.

EDYTHE DAVIS

Side Center. We, of A. L. H., hope that Edythe may meet through life with a great success like that which she has attained getting around on the hardwood.

COLLEEN SANFORD

Forward—149. Colleen has demonstrated remarkable prowess in her keenness of eye for the basket. All her friends and admirers will miss her greatly.

ELIZABETH HIGGINBOTHAM

Forward—Jump Center. Jump center on All-County team, '36-'37. Elizabeth has proved her ability as a player in two important positions and greatly deserves all the credit she receives.

NANCY PIERPONT

Jump Center. Nancy has proved the age-old saying—A clear head is a great benefit to a team.

MARGARET PARKER

Guard and Captain. Guard on All-County team, '36-'37. "Lefty" has proved that a good sport is something that every team needs and we athletes, as well as spectators, wish her a successful future.

CAROLINE MAXWELL

Guard. Guard on second All-County team, '36-'37. That which Caroline lacks in height she makes up in her ability as a player. We are sure that she will continue her success to a higher goal.

A Resume of Baseball

Year after year Andrew Lewis High has had a winning baseball team. These crack "nines" have never received their justifiable plaudits in this yearbook, because it always went to the press before the season had started. So THE PIONEER, standing for under-grads and grads alike, takes this opportunity to pay a tribute to Coach Denton and his long line of excellent ball clubs.

Delving into the records of the Wolverine "sluggers," we offer these statistics, which demonstrate the capability of Salem ball players and of Mr. Denton.

Last year a total of 14 games were played; only two games were lost. During the years from 1932-1935, 63 out of the 72 games played were won by the Wolverine "sluggers." In 1928 and 1929, "Ducky's" charges, led by the Crosswhite battery, were the State Champions, and other Lewis teams would have been, had not the title been destroyed by State officials.

We point with pride to the record of our baseball teams, and we know that the success of these teams is due, in no small way, to Mr. Denton, who, regardless of the scarcity of material, has always produced a winning team.

This year Track was inaugurated as a major sport at Andrew Lewis High. Under the supervision of Asbury Maury and of Coach Denton the team developed rapidly and has finished the season with a creditable record. Four meets were held; the Wolverines were victorious in two of these; the other two were lost by scanty margins. The County Meet was decisively won by Andrew Lewis.

Outstanding among the Track-performers were Johnson with 64½ points; Hurdle with 30 points; Keith and Lee with 24 points each; Ednie with 21 points; and Spiggle and McGhee with 16 points each.

Next year, with such a firm foundation laid, Andrew Lewis should have a track team that should rank among the state's best.

Appreciation

IT is with real pleasure that we take this opportunity to thank the business firms of Roanoke and Salem for their whole-hearted coöperation and assistance in the publishing of this 1937 PIONEER. Their munificent spirit toward us, their belief in us as evidenced by their support—have aroused in us an inexpressible feeling of gratitude which, though inadequately expressed, will not soon be forgotten. It is our wish that for these, our patron saints, the coming years will be prosperous ones.

Ye Pyoneer Quotes

Certain people around school have unknowingly distinguished themselves by certain oft-repeated phrases so appropriately applied to certain situations that we feel that they demonstrate unusual powers of ingenuity. With apology to them for purloining, we beg to present these celebrities.

. . . I don't care if you get mad—it won't hurt my party tonight or my automobile trip next week. . . This is your school, your sports. . . Why don't you know it? . . . When I was on the farm . . . (Mr. Farley)

I'm going to give a test that will knock your ears off. . . Last year when I played tennis. . . You may be your mama's baby, but you're a pain in the neck to me. (Dr. Bell)

Good Morning! Nice day to plant onions! . . . Pipe down. . . When I invent my airplane, it will light on the limb of a tree. . . When I was in the Navy. . . (Mr. Dennis)

Is that your mother's signature? . . . Can I get someone to chase around the building for me? . . . (Miss Effinger)

I have one or two announcements to make. . . The time is slipping up on us. . . I want a reason for your absence. . . Let's get together and coöperate. . . We don't want anything like this to happen again. . . Step back here in this room, I want to talk with you. . . (Mr. Broadwater)

The more people that come to this building the more I try to make it look nice. . . Have you got anything to eat? . . . (Mr. Voci)

I try so hard to think of something different to give you all to eat. . . (Mrs. Bradley)

From right to left, by two's, count off. Two's step behind one on right. . . . (Miss Persinger)

He that knows, and knows that he knows, is wise; but he that knows not, and knows not that he knows not, is a fool! . . . Quite so! Quite so! . . . (Mr. Snapp)

Jot this down. . . (Mrs. Strickler)

He who says, "I forgot," never knew. . . (Mrs. Pedigo)

Can any one give me two nickels for a dime? . . . Be ladies and gentlemen. . . (Miss McConkey)

Work harder! Work harder! . . . Fifteen pull-ups and fifteen push-ups! . . . (Mr. Denton)

I'm afraid we'll have to take these stitches out. . . Let's leave the room neat. . . (Mrs. Fischel)

(Tap! Tap! . . . Come get your pass and go back to your room. . . (Miss Wright)

"As a vessel is known by the sound whether it be cracked or not, so men are proved, by their speeches, whether they be wise or foolish." . . . (Mrs. Turner)

Take a breath—Rest—One, two. (Mrs. Peery.)

To High School Graduates

Whatever you plan to do after graduation—whether you plan for college or business—your mental development must continue.

The National Business College is a distinctive, private school of professional grade. Day and evening courses prepare high school graduates for immediate earnings. Many graduates who have acquired experience are now presidents, vice-presidents, cashiers, secretaries, treasurers and controllers of large corporations—others are in successful accountancy practice.

The selection of a commercial school for your business training is of vital importance to you. Write for beautifully illustrated catalog.
